The usual amount of printed matter was distributed yesterday, including a circular, a letterhead, a check and a business card. He also handed himself to the pamphlets, bulletins, annuals and maps, etc., to send back home.

Jobs Miller contributed to the permanent exhibit 50, 100, 200, 500, 1000, 2000, 5000, 10000, 20000, 50000, 100000, 200000, 500000, 1000000, 2000000, 5000000, 10000000, 20000000, 50000000, 100000000, 200000000, 500000000, 1000000000, 2000000000, 5000000000, 10000000000, 20000000000, 50000000000, 100000000000, 200000000000, 500000000000, 1000000000000, 2000000000000, 5000000000000, 10000000000000, 20000000000000, 50000000000000, 100000000000000, 200000000000000, 500000000000000, 1000000000000000, 2000000000000000, 5000000000000000, 10000000000000000, 20000000000000000, 50000000000000000, 100000000000000000, 200000000000000000, 500000000000000000, 1000000000000000000, 2000000000000000000, 5000000000000000000, 10000000000000000000, 20000000000000000000, 50000000000000000000, 100000000000000000000, 200000000000000000000, 500000000000000000000, 1000000000000000000000, 2000000000000000000000, 5000000000000000000000, 10000000000000000000000, 20000000000000000000000, 50000000000000000000000, 100000000000000000000000, 200000000000000000000000, 500000000000000000000000, 1000000000000000000000000, 2000000000000000000000000, 5000000000000000000000000, 10000000000000000000000000, 20000000000000000000000000, 50000000000000000000000000, 100000000000000000000000000, 200000000000000000000000000, 500000000000000000000000000, 1000000000000000000000000000, 2000000000000000000000000000, 5000000000000000000000000000, 10000000000000000000000000000, 20000000000000000000000000000, 50000000000000000000000000000, 100000000000000000000000000000, 200000000000000000000000000000, 500000000000000000000000000000, 1000000000000000000000000000000, 2000000000000000000000000000000, 5000000000000000000000000000000, 10000000000000000000000000000000, 20000000000000000000000000000000, 50000000000000000000000000000000, 100000000000000000000000000000000, 200000000000000000000000000000000, 500000000000000000000000000000000, 1000000000000000000000000000000000, 2000000000000000000000000000000000, 5000000000000000000000000000000000, 10000000000000000000000000000000000, 20000000000000000000000000000000000, 50000000000000000000000000000000000, 100000000000000000000000000000000000, 200000000000000000000000000000000000, 500000000000000000000000000000000000, 1000000000000000000000000000000000000, 2000000000000000000000000000000000000, 5000000000000000000000000000000000000, 10000000000000000000000000000000000000, 20000000000000000000000000000000000000, 50000000000000000000000000000000000000, 100000000000000000000000000000000000000, 200000000000000000000000000000000000000, 500000000000000000000000000000000000000, 1000000000000000000000000000000000000000, 2000000000000000000000000000000000000000, 5000000000000000000000000000000000000000, 100, 200, 500, 1000, 2000, 5000, 100, 200, 500, 1000, 2000, 5000, 100, 200, 500, 1000, 2000, 5000, 100, 200, 500, 1000, 2000, 5000, 100, 200, 500, 1000000000

THE SPRING RACES.

Liberal Inducements for Trotters and Side-wheelers.

The directors of the Sixth District Agricultural Association have announced a preliminary programme of fixed events for the twelfth annual fair. The purses are the largest, by long odds, ever offered by any association in the State. Two thousand dollars are offered for trotters eligible to the three-minute class; $3000 for trotters eligible to the 2:30 class and $3000 for trotters eligi-

to the 2:25 train. The ride will be eligible to the 3:25 class and is offered $1500. The conditions are: any liberal and only 5 per cent will be charged for the ride. The unfortunate enough to get the slice of the money. Entails in all the above purses must be made with Secretary Benjamin on or before March 2.

The directors expect to secure the best of the West for the annual fair of 1891, which is set for the week beginning August 24. A supplementary program will be issued early in March, when other equally as liberal purses will be offered in the West. Are the directors expected to bring together the best free-for-all horse in the State. Every inducement will be offered to have the best meeting ever held in the West take place in this city.

The Excursion to Redondo Yesterday.
THE BANQUET LAST EVENING.

Mayor Hazard Presides as Toastmaster—Toasts and Resolutions—Those Who Were Present.

Yesterday morning the Southern California Editorial Association met at the Redondo Beach Depot and took the 10:15 train for Redondo, where they were entertained by Capt. Ainsworth.

After lunch music was furnished and dancing was indulged in for several hours.
The party returned in the evening, and at 8:30 o'clock the association gathered at the Nadeau parlors and an informal reception was held until 9:30 o'clock, when the following ladies and gentlemen were escorted to the dining-room, where the guests were entertained at the banquet table by the newly-elected president of the association, Scipio Craig:

Scipio Craig and wife, Redlands Citragraph; E. H. H. Blanchard, Elsinore; News; L. T. Fisher and wife, Santa Monica Outlook; James Fullerton, Orange News;
Mr. H. H. H. Blanchard, Santa Monica; Charles Bell and wife, Porterville, Los Angeles; C. J. McD. Vitt, Santa Paula Chronicle; Will C. Bailey, Colton News; D. M.
Baker, Misses Minnie and Hattie Daker,
Santa Ana Standard; C. H. Eberle, Downey
Champion; H. McPhee, Murietta Valley
Union; Herb C. Foster, South Riverside
Bee; S. A. Drummond, Antelope Valley
Times; H. H. Blanchard, Elsinore;
S. G. Adams and wife, of Chicago; C. H.
Smith and T. J. Hammer, Los Angeles
Hotel Gazette; H. Kuchel, Anaheim Gazette;
Dr. Booth and Miss Alice Booth, Booth's
Hag; Needles; F. E. Kimball and wife, Coronado Mercury; George T. Hanly and wife, Star, Los Angeles; L. T. House and wife, Redondo Beach Compass; R. G. Curran, Ojai Valley Recorder; E. Joannson, Westminster Tribune; R. A. Marshall and wife, Burbank Times; Frank J. Dyer and wife, Citrus, Los Angeles; George F. Teb-bitts, Santa Barbara Independent; J. W.
Ferguson and wife, Fresno Express;
C. M. Heintz, Henry Krusenbergs, Rural California; George F. Kuehnan, R. H. and Miss Emma C. Young, Santa Ana Southwest; Dr. Simpson, Ventura
Free Press; Mrs. Frank Hart, Pacific
Monthly; J. W. Harvey, Monrovia Messenger; J. H. W. Jeffries, Azusa-Pomona-Tropic.
Mayor Hazard was chosen toastmaster, and he presided in a manner that gave entire satisfaction to all present.

Early in the proceedings the Mayor rose and stated that he had been invited to attend a banquet to all hours, and for that reason he proposed to start speech-making before all the courses had been served. He paid the editors a high compliment, saying that he was confident that without their assistance this country would not be what it is today.

The Mayor called on Justice Marshall of Burbank to respond to the toast "Our Host."

The justice took up President Craig's life from an early day in Southern California, and brought the story of his career and pictured him as one of the most prosperous country editors in the state. He is confident that under Mr. Craig's management the association will prosper and that the association will be a great help to the association as one of the greatest institutions in Southern California and he feels that his membership will more than double before Mr. Craig's term expires.

"The Border Press" was responded to by Dr. Booth of The Needles B. Zoo. The doctor had but little to say about killing and real wild-eyed animals who scalp editors, but he proved himself to be a humorist of no small ability, and for ten minutes he kept his hearers in roars of laughter.

"The Local Press" was responded to by J. E. Bennett of the Express.

"The Undeveloped Part of Our Country" was responded to by S. A. Drummond of the Antelope Valley Times.

The "Incoming Administration" was responded to by L. O. Osborne, who came in late and told what he knew about the inaugural ball that he attended in Sacramento last week.

"The Ladies" was responded to by Charles Bell of the Porcupine.

At this stage of the proceedings President Craig called for a report from the Committee on Resolutions, which was read as follows:

Your Special Committee on Resolutions
begs leave to make the following report:

Resolved, that, considering the courtesies extended to the members of the association by the Southern Pacific Company, the California Southern Railway Company and the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad, we return our hearty thanks to each of them.

Resolved, that the kindness of the Board of Trade and Chamber of Commerce of Los Angeles is appreciated.

Resolved, that the sincere thanks of this association is due to the proprietors of the Nadeau, Messrs. Boush and Streiber, for tendering us the use of their parlors for meeting and other liberal recognition.

Resolved, that the association tender to Mayor Henry T. Hazard our appreciation for the able manner in which he has assisted us in making the meeting of the association bright and enjoyable.

Resolved, that this committee has failed to find words in any language familiar to the members of it, to express our admiration and appreciation of the services of S. C. Haffner, Sheriff of the county, for his treatment accorded us by Capt. George J.
Ainsworth of the Redondo Hotel and Railway Company, and his courteous manager, Col. E. W. K. and his assistants, and his tendering us the use of their parlors for meeting and other liberal recognition.

Resolved, that the association tender to those gentlemen, with the assurance to them that their grand treatment of our association has made a lasting impression upon our minds.

Before the party broke up President
Craig rose to his feet and gave the association some good advice, saying that if the various editors who belong to the association will pull together they can succeed in getting almost anything they desire before the State Legislature.
The speaker then gave a sketch of his newspaper work in Los Angeles when the spot where the Nadeau now stands was a duck pond. At that time he worked on the old Star as a type-setter.

The party then broke up and the association adjourned.

THURSDAY'S MEETING.

Editorial Association in yesterday's paper,

A Queer Case.

Yesterday afternoon about 1:30 o'clock a rather decent-looking young man who gave the name of M. Condon was taken to the police station by Officer Hoff and locked up for medical treatment. Condon was somewhat under the influence of liquor, but did not appear to be so drunk that he did not know what he was doing. He tried to raise a row with a man at the corner of First and Main streets, about 1 o'clock, and when Officer Ellis interfered and ordered him to move on, he walked up to a stand on the sidewalk where a "fair" was selling jewelry, and picking up a bottle of nitric acid, attempted to drink it. The jewelry man grabbed the bottle just before Condon got it to his mouth, and in the struggle the contents of the bottle were poured on Condon's face, burning him badly. Condon denied that he tried to commit suicide, but refused to explain his queer actions.

A PHANTOM SCHOONER.

A VESSEL WHICH HAS NO EXIST-ENCE.

A Careful Investigation Fails to Discover the Whereabouts of the G. C. Williams—Queer Story.

The following interesting information appears in the Examiner of Wednesday morning:

"LOS ANGELES, Jan. 13.—The schooner
G. C. Williams, Capt. Edward A. Hansen, master, arrived at San Pedro today with 2300 seals aboard, thirty-two days from Cook's Inlet.

On March 17 he was spoken by the revenue cutter Bear and overhauled, but released when the officers were satisfied that the seals had been caught in open water and outside the three-league limit."

This dispatch might be all well enough but the only trouble is that there is not a word of truth in it. To begin with, no such schooner as the G. C. Williams ever arrived at San Pedro and secondly there is no schooner of that name engaged in the coast trade according to the Marine Register, which is the most reliable authority. The again a catch of 2300 seals in open waters is a practical impossibility. At least it is not at all probable.

The motive that influenced some party to secure the publication of this raise information cannot be exactly understood. It is probable, though, that he is attempting to pass off a hoax on the public, and that he is the master of the schooner G. C. Williams, which he will assert is lying at San Pedro with a valuable cargo.

A representative of THE TIMES visited San Pedro yesterday for the purpose of looking this matter up. At the Custom-house the information was given that no such schooner as the G. C. Williams had ever entered the port.

However, it was ascertained that about six months ago a lot of vegetables were shipped from Los Angeles for the G. C.
Williams. No such vessel was in port and the vegetables decayed in the warehouse of the Wilmington Transportation Company, as they were never called for.

About two months ago a man claiming to be the captain of the G. C. Williams hired a mechanic to go from here to San Pedro to repair the pumps of the vessel. The mechanic went down to the seaport, but could not find any such schooner.

Some time back a man about 40 years of age looking like a seafaring man called at the office of the Wilmington Lumber Company in this city. He said he was the captain of the G. C. Williams, which was then discharging lumber for the company at San Pedro. On the strength of this statement the company paid him $200 in cash.

There is evidently something behind the publication of the above dispatch, and what the motive is has not yet been unearthed. In the meantime, merchants and others should be most conservative in transacting business with any party or parties claiming connection with "the schooner G.
C. Williams" which evidently exists only in the fertile brain of some clever confidence worker.

ACCUSED OF MURDER.

A Terrible Charge Against Gus Brennan.

STRONG CHAIN OF EVIDENCE.

A Former Resident of San Pedro Said to Have Killed His Brother by Burning
Him to Death.

Gus Brennan, who formerly resided at the seaport of San Pedro, and who, managed during a stay of several years to enrich that usually lively community to an extraordinary degree, is now at Santa Cruz, this State, in the County Jail. There is a charge of murder resting against him, and the chain of circumstantial evidence that has been established against him is very strong.

For some time past, detectives have been engaged at San Pedro working up evidence in the case. The record that Brennan made at San Pedro will be shown up at his trial, which is set for February 5, in the Superior Court of Santa Cruz County.

Brennan stands charged with no less a crime than the murder of his alleged brother. On December 18 a fire destroyed the cabin in which Brennan and his alleged brother were sleeping at Santa Cruz. Brennan himself escaped without injury, but the party whom he claimed was his brother was so badly burned that he died the same day of the fire occurred.

The unfortunate individual was dragged half way out of the house. His head, face and body were fearfully burned, but his clothes were scarcely scorched.

Living in the fact that the burned man could not speak English he could explain nothing about how the fire occurred, or give any details whatever of the calamization.
Brennan claimed that the dead man was his brother Eric.

The whole affair looked very suspicious.
Brennan had nothing of value in the cabin, he had not yet removed any values from the hotel. Then, too, it looked very strange that the supposed brother should be so badly burned and his clothes should have escaped the flames almost entirely.

But further light was thrown upon the mystery, a few days after the fire when Brennan turned up with an insurance policy upon his brother Eric's life for $5000. It was issued by the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company. He also had a thirty-day accident policy on his brother's life for $5000, issued December 5, by the Traveler's Insurance Company which expired January 5 of this year.

The result of the death of the unknown individual by the fire, was that Brennan would receive $5000. This explained some of the anomalous features of the configuration, and set the Sheriff of Santa Cruz county to thinking that all was not right.

An investigation was at once instituted, and Brennan's past history was delved into.
It was found that he had formerly resided at San Pedro. Here in April of 1889 he was tarred and feathered by the indignant popular for being too intimate with another man's wife.

In May of 1889 his house in San Pedro burned under the most suspicious circumstances. It was insured for $1000. So glaring were the facts surrounding the fire that Brennan was arrested on a charge of arson.

It was shown that on the night before the fire Brennan had removed his foot chest, being a carpenter by trade, from the house, as well as some other articles of value. The evidence, however, was not strong enough, and he was not held.

After this Brennan concluded that San Pedro was a little too hot for him, so he left and returned to his native country, where he was Finland. Later he came back to California, bringing with him the unfortunate individual who was burned to death, and whom he claimed was his brother.

The result of the detective's investigation at San Pedro has been that he has found a man who was intimately acquainted with Brennan's family in Finland. This party has made a deposition stating that the family comprised three children, two boys, Eric and Gus, and a sister. The party aswears that Eric came to this country over five years ago, and he further asserts that he speaks good English.

It is not known whether a burned to death could speak a word of English, and yet Gus claims that it was his brother. A strong endeavor will be made by the insurance companies to find this sister. She can clear up the mystery if she can be located.

THE TIMES ANNUAL FOR CHICAGO

THE TIMES has under way a project for supplying 10,000 copies of its Annual Trade Number for distribution at the Southern California Permanent Exhibit in Chicago. Many citizens—merchants, bankers, hotel-keepers, land men and others—are interesting themselves in the enterprise, and the orders for this superb issue already reach more than 6000 copies since the first two or three large editions were exhausted. The good that can be accomplished by a wide and numerous distribution of the Annual is understood by our people; but more shoulders are needed at the wheel. The rate is $5 per 100 copies, and orders are received on that basis, the papers to be forwarded by us to the manager of the exhibit at Chicago, or otherwise disposed of, as the subscribers may severally direct. Send in your orders, personally or by mail.

The English papers do not approve of the Free Coinage of Silver Bill any more than they did of the McKinley Bill. It is really too bad that we cannot run this country to suit our English cousins.

The old Board of Police Commissioners has been reappointed. This is but a merited tribute to the efficient manner in which the police business of the city has been conducted under the present board.

The Panama Canal Company has obtained the assent of the French Government to a new lottery scheme to forward the construction of the canal. The government of France ought not to encourage the wasting of more money in this impossible scheme, especially as most of the lottery contributions will come from poor people.

The erroneous transmission of Viti-cultural Commissioner West's raisin statistics by the Associated Press is bringing a shower of invectives upon the innocent head of that gentleman. The San Diego Union denounces his supposed incompetency in a three-quarter-column editorial. The Associated Press owes a handsome apology to Mr. West.

Pittsburg business men have refused to lend the Westinghouse Company $500,000 to help them tide over their financial troubles, and the company may now have to go into the hands of a receiver. Los Angeles people are somewhat interested in this matter, as there was talk of the conversion of the Los Angeles and Pacific into an electric road by the Westinghouse Company.

STANFORD WORSHIP.

The Express undertakes to criticize the Times for its "brutal attacks" upon Senator Stanford, which, it asserts, are dictated by personal malice. When the Express "attacked" Mr. Stanford last summer, on account of his endorsement of a certain objectionable Federal official, we presume that such "attack" was founded upon lofty principle, not upon "personal malice."

The Times has not recently "attacked" Mr. Stanford. It certainly has had cause enough to do so, as has any other self-respecting journal. It may do so, and probably will. But all we have done of late has been to publish certain well-known and generally-admitted facts pertaining to the public career of this American Caesar, who, it appears, feeds on such meat that to criticize him is blasphemy. Among other things, we have called attention to the fact that he did not dare to vote for the investigation of Payne of Ohio, because he was threatened with an investigation of the means by which he secured his own election; that he divided the Republican party in the State by hiring men to form the American party, in order to elect Hearst; that he betrayed Sargent in a deliberate and cowardly manner, and that he voted for the confirmation of Lamar, the Confederate brigadier, to serve his personal and corporate interests.

To these charges we might add the significant fact that, in the recent election, the majority obtained by the legislators, who have the election of a United States Senator, was five times as large as that for the head of the State ticket.

But why this undue exaltation of a very ordinary American citizen, who has had the good luck to accumulate a large fortune, through a fortuitous combination of unforeseen circumstances combined with the unprecedented generosity of the United States Government and to attain a high position through the knowledge of how to place a portion of his vast wealth where it will do the most good?

Why should the voice be hushed, the gaze lowered, and criticism be reduced to whispers, or entirely suppressed when this Great Man is the subject of comment?

Why is there so general a disposition among the journalists and politicians of the State to fawn upon and toady to a man who is, as an orator, a gaudy number of inaudible words; as a politician, a wholesale corrupter of the ballot; as a statesman, a shallow demagogue, and as a member of society, a tedious bore?

Why is it?

There can be but one logical answer to this question. It is because Mr. Stanford is a very wealthy man. But, it will be said, there are many other wealthy men in this country, who are not elevated to the rank of gods. Yes, but, as aforementioned, Mr. Stanford has learned well the art of placing his easily-gotten wealth where it will do the most good. He is willing to spend money like water for incense, and to carry out his overweening ambition. The vision of Pixley, the boss censor-swinger, at $10,000 a year and the hope of possibly rising to that proud eminence, lends a species of devil-like frenzy to the genuflections and paeans of praise which the great army of little worshippers perform, as they crawl on their bellies at the feet of this nineteenth-century Baal, through whose fire honor, honesty and self-respect must pass ere they can hope to attain advanced position in the Golden State. This is the secret of Stanford worship, which is the leading political cult of California today. It is simply the old, old story of the "accursed thirst for gold," and all that gold will buy.

The man who sells his convictions for gold is a slave. The man who thus buys men is a danger to the State and a menace to the integrity of Democratic institutions.

"If this be treason"—if this is abuse—"then make the best of it!"

OUR RAISIN PRODUCT—COMMISSIONER WEST'S FIGURES.

Extensive extracts from the report of George West, the Viticultural Commissioner for the San Joaquin District, show that the errors in the raisin statistics, to which yesterday referred, are the fault of the Associated Press, not of the Commissioner. Instead of the production of the State being given as 760,000 boxes, when all the raisin vineyards now planted are in full bearing, it should have been 7,600,000 boxes, and instead of the consumption of the United States being 375,000 boxes, it should have been 3,745,000 boxes.

This, of course, puts quite another complexion on the Commissioner's arguments in regard to the probable overdoing of the industry. Even then, however, we think Mr. West is disposed to take too gloomy a view of the future of the industry and to under-estimate the possibilities of foreign markets for the American product. This estimated product for California in 1895, namely, 7,600,000 boxes, is small compared with the estimated present product of Greece, Smyrna, Spain and Italy, which is 29,000,000 boxes—and these raisins are all consumed.

Prof. Koch has at length given to the world the composition of his lymph, which appears to be very simple, containing only tubercle bacilli in glycerine, and free from any of the substance which some too-clever analysts thought they had discovered therein. The doctors will now have a chance to manufacture the lymph for themselves. In view of the fatalities which have occurred, it is to be hoped that they will use all necessary precautions, or the remedy may be found more dangerous than the disease.

SENATOR MCCONNELL yesterday introduced a bill in the Senate to declare the Pacific railroads forfeited to the Government. As to the justice of such a measure, there can be no two opinions in the minds of unprejudiced men. As to the chance of such a measure passing, that is entirely a different question. The average observer of current events will be inclined to believe that there is about as much chance for a camel to go through the eye of a needle as for this measure to pass. The action of Senator McConnell will, however, accomplish some good. It will attract renewed attention to the outrageous manner in which these corporations are seeking to evade their just liabilities. It will place the members of the Senate on record again, and it will probably aid in forcing the roads to come to some sort of an arrangement with the Government—to pay off their debt in something less than a century, and with interest at a little over one per cent per annum.

COUNTY DIVISION.

The Glenn county bill has come up again, which reminds us that the slayer of Dr. Glenn was one of Waterman's pardoned convicts.

This Legislature is likely to be known in history as the county division Legislature. Among the sections which it is proposed to segregate in Southern California, the people seem to be mostly either opposed to the schemes or indifferent. The leaders in the division movements are, however, very much in earnest. They know just what they want. They want offices, or positions in offices, or to sell town lots for county buildings, or to get the county printing, or something of that sort. They are directly interested in the matter and expect to make a considerable amount of money out of the formation of the new counties; hence they can afford to spend both money and time to push the schemes through.

On the other hand, the mass of the people are more or less indifferent, because they consider that they are only indirectly interested. They say they have not time to give to the matter. "What is everybody's business is nobody's business." As a consequence of this negligence, there appears to be a very good chance that one or perhaps all of these division schemes will go through, unless the citizens wake up and "fight the devil with fire." By this we do not mean that money should be used directly to influence members of the Legislature—better a dozen times let the counties be formed than encourage such base methods—but money is needed for legitimate purposes—to engage legal assistance, to pay traveling expenses and for the printing of facts in regard to the case which must be disseminated in order to educate public opinion, especially the opinions of the legislators who will have to pass upon the question.

There is no time to be lost. If the citizens of Los Angeles county do not desire to see it further dismembered, they must act, and act promptly.

The surrender of arms by the hostile Indians, yesterday, turned out to be a farce. One chief turned in, as the arms of his followers, nine old guns, including two shotguns, a Henry rifle, a broken carbine, two Sharp's rifles and a Winchester. This is just the same thing that the Indians did at Wounded Knee, and if a search for arms had been ordered, as it was there, the result would no doubt have been equally disastrous. It looks very much as if the wily savages had only come in to get a good feed and tide over the cold weather. They certainly cannot be considered as captives, as long as the captors dare not disarm them. It is evidently too soon to congratulate ourselves on the end of this Indian trouble.

"CALIFORNIA ON WHEELS" is now in Washington State, and is expected back in San Francisco about the first of next month.

AMUSEMENTS.

LOS ANGELES THEATRE.—The concluding performance of Ray L. Royce's clever company took place last night and was much enjoyed by fair-weather audience. Arthur C. Moore's banjo playing was encored five or six times. Little Jessie, an 8-year-old child, showed exceptional ability in songs and dances. Mr. Royce is a capable, conscientious artist, and will be heard of at no distant date in more ambitious work for which he possesses qualifications of no ordinary kind.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 15.—[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] Is Elizabeth Hollenbeck dead? She is reported so by the Woman's Journal of December 29, 1890, which says she died of $750,000 in trust for building a home for indigent women and homeless children. Is not Mrs. Hollenbeck still with us in Los Angeles?

INQUIRY.
 (Mrs. Hollenbeck is not only alive, but in good health, with many years of usefulness, it is hoped, still before her. She prefers to make her magnificent bequest while she could see that her wishes were carried out, instead of waiting to let others manage it, and possibly have the legacy dissipated in litigation. It was Mrs. Hollenbeck's striking exception to the general rule which probably led the Woman's Journal into error.—ED. TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—[By the Associated Press.] The Free Coinage Bill passed by the Senate last night is substantially as follows:

An act to provide for the free coinage of silver and gold, and for other purposes.
 Be it enacted: Section 1. That from and after the date of the passage of this act, the unit of value in the United States shall be the dollar, and the same may be coined of 412½ grains of standard silver, or 25-10 grains of standard gold, and said coins shall be legal tender for all debts, public and private. That hereafter any owner of silver or gold bullion may deposit the same at any mint of the United States, to be formed into standard dollars or bars for his benefit, and without charge; but it shall be lawful to refuse any deposit of less value than $100, or any bullion so base as to be unsuitable for the operations of the mint.

Sec. 2. The provision of section No. 3 of "An act to authorize the coinage of the standard silver dollar, and to restore its legal tender character" which became a law February 23, 1878, is hereby made applicable to the coinage in this act provided for.

Sec. 3. That the certificates provided for in the second section of this act shall be of the force of an irrevocable order of payment in coin of standard value. A sufficient sum to carry out the provisions of this act is hereby appropriated, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated. So much of the act of July 14, 1890, entitled "An act directing the purchase of silver bullion and the issue of Treasury notes, and for other purposes, as requires the purchase of 4,500,000 ounces of silver bullion per month, and the same is, hereby repealed."

Sec. 4. The certificates provided for in this act, and all silver and gold certificates already issued, shall be receivable for all taxes and duties to the United States, for every description, and shall be legal tender for the payment of all debts, public and private.

Sec. 5. The owners of bullion deposited for coinage shall have the option to receive the coin or its equivalent in the certificates provided for in this act, and such bullion shall be subsequently coined.

The Silver Bill has been, under the rule of the House, referred to the Committee on Coinage, Weights and Measures, of which Mr. Wickham of Ohio is chairman. The silver men in the House have been actively engaged in missionary work in the interest of free coinage. They are sanguine of ultimate success, and are certain that the bill cannot be kept indefinitely in committee, and that within a reasonable time the Coinage Committee will order a report made, notwithstanding all efforts to prevent the bill having an opportunity for consideration.

Mr. Hartine of Nevada, one of the outspoken Republican advocates of free coinage on the committee, said today that he was confident of getting the Silver Bill back to the House. He thought that the sentiment toward silver had grown much more favorable than it was last session, and that a good many Republicans were now inclined to understate the influence which silver had on the recent election.

The Star says:

From the general tenor of conversation among the silver majority, it was apparent that they regarded their victory as merely due to the force of an irresistible popular demand, which, they believe, will make itself felt in a similar manner in the House and ultimately in the Executive Mansion. The more cautious and conservative friends of silver are inclined to think that the action of yesterday will prove to have been a fortunate thing for the country. It may serve to satisfy the strong craving of the West and South for financial relief and thus prevent recourse to more extreme measures in the near future. They are, however, not unmindful of the fact that the matter is not yet settled.

TO FORFEIT THEIR CHARTERS.

A Senate Bill to Forfeiture on the Government-aided Roads.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—[By the Associated Press.] Senator McConnell today introduced a bill to provide for a settlement between the United States and the Central and Union Pacific and certain other railway corporations which have received bonds from the Government to aid in the construction of their roads. The bill directs the Attorney-General to commence proceedings of forfeiture against these corporations, and authorizes the President to detail three army officers as a board of appraisers to fix the value of all property belonging to these roads.

The Attorney-General is also instructed to institute proceedings against all of the companies to forfeit the charters and other privileges conferred by the Government. The Secretary of the Treasury is to have prepared legal-tender United States notes to the amount of $250,000,000 to be disposed of to pay off the roads' bonds and indebtedness, no payment to be made until the Supreme Court has rendered a decree confirming the findings of the board of appraisers. The Secretary of the Interior is authorized to advertise, within thirty days after the investiture of the property, for a lease for fifty years of the railways, with their appurtenances and rolling stock, no bid to be considered for an annual rental of less than $5,000,000.

MORE CONSERVATIVE.

A New Immigration Bill Reported by the House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—[By the Associated Press.] The Immigration Committee has agreed upon an immigration bill and reported it to the House. The bill was considerably modified from the measure heretofore decided on by the majority of the committee. Mr. Lehigh having been strongly opposed to reporting any measure as stringent as the first proposed.

The present law prohibits convicts, lunatics, idiots and paupers from coming to this country. The bill reported adds to this persons likely to become paupers, polygamists and persons convicted of any crime involving moral turpitude. Simple political offenders are not included. Persons whose transportation has been paid for, must show conclusively that they are not within the prohibited classes. This will cover persons sent over here by the poor law guardians.

meet evasions of the contract-labor law which experience has brought to light. The system of inspection of immigrants is greatly strengthened. Chairman Owen says that the bill is conservative and permits all desirable persons to come to this country, while shutting out the others.

FIFTY-FIRST CONGRESS.

Referred.

The Elections Bill was taken up and Mr. Everts spoke at length in advocacy of it. He particularly scored the new Constitution of Mississippi in so far as it related to elections and suffrage. Mr. Fasco obtained the floor and the bill was laid aside informally.

Mr. Hoar gave notice that tomorrow he should ask the Senate to remain in session until the bill was finished.

TALK OF THE FIGHT.

Fitzsimmons Says His Task Was an Easy One.

He Could Have Gone on With the Contest All Night.

The Victor Does Not Want to Meet Any Heavyweights.

Parson Davies Arranges for an Exhibition Tour in America and England—The Prize Money Paid.

By Telegraph to The Times.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 15.—[By the Associated Press.] Today talk was still all fight. The general verdict briefly summed up is that Fitzsimmons is a wonder and a class all by himself, and that Jack Dempsey is the cleverest and gamest man of his inches who has ever entered the ring. Fitzsimmons tonight said: "The fight was not a hard one. I did not even get thoroughly warmed up. I did not work any harder than when punching the bag. I told him I was strong enough to last all night and he had better give up, but he would not, and I had to keep it up, much to my regret. His gameness cost me $5,000, which had been promised me in case I won in ten rounds."

Fitzsimmons has received congratulatory telegrams from all over the country, and was glad to find that he had friends. The Olympic Club today paid over to him $11,000 as his share of the purse money, and many people who won money on him also sent him presents, which aggregated $7200 more.

"How about the proposed fight with Corbett?"

Jimmy Carroll, his manager, replied: "There is nothing in that. Fitzsimmons is a middle-weight and there is no use for him to go over heavy-weights. He might make the same mistake as Dempsey, and be sorry. It is not good policy for a man to go outside of his class."

"Corbett is too clever," said Fitzsimmons, "and too big. Middle-weights are good enough for me."

Parson Davies of Chicago, who starred Peter Jackson, had a talk with Fitzsimmons and Carroll about a contract for a tour, to cover America and England and to last six months, provided the consent of the California Athletic Club, which has engagements with both men, is obtained. The men are well liked by the directors, and those who were in the city promised to call a meeting as soon as they reached home. In the meantime, Davies has gone to Chicago to prepare the tour, which will begin in a few weeks. After the large cities in America are visited, it is proposed to go to England and arrange a match with Fritchard or Burke before the Pelican Club, as an entering wedge to the British sporting public.

"DICK" OGLESBY N. OMINATED.

He Is the Choice of the Illinois Republicans for Senator.

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.), Jan. 15.—[By the Associated Press.] Ex-Gov. Richard J. Oglesby was tonight nominated by the joint Republican caucus as candidate for United States Senator, to succeed Charles B. Farwell. The first informal ballot was: Lamer, 1, ex-Representative Ross of LaSalle, 2; Gen. John McNulta, 3; Cicero J. Lindley, 3; Walter Q. Gresham, 11; Charles B. Farwell, 32, and Richard J. Oglesby, 54. A formal ballot was then taken, resulting: Lamer, 1; Ross, 1; Gresham, 4; Farwell, 30, and Oglesby, 64. Chairman Fuller declared Richard J. Oglesby the nominee of the caucus. Crawford of Cook, one of Farwell's friends, moved that the nomination be made unanimous. Miller and Bass of Cook seconded this, and the nomination was made unanimous by a rising vote.

A Democratic joint caucus was also held tonight. It was resolved that, as the State convention unanimously nominated John M. Palmer last summer, the endorsement of the caucus was unnecessary. The fact that the F. M. B. members have said that they will not vote for the "caucus nominee" of either party, may have had something to do with this.

NINE RUSTY OLD GUNS

The Indians Make a Pretense of Disarming.

Their Tactics at Wounded Knee Repeated at Pine Ridge.

They Have No Intention of Giving Up Their Weapons.

Gen. Miles Will Send a Delegation to Washington—The Brules Move Their Camp—Death of Lieut. Mann.

By Telegram to The Times.

PINE RIDGE (S. D.), Jan. 15.—[By the Associated Press.] The Indians began to straggle in at noon. They were strung out along White Clay Creek for a distance of two miles, on foot, on horseback and in wagons, with a large number of ponies. Some of them entered the friendlies' camp, others pitched their tepees on the west bank of the White Clay. These were the Ogallalas. The Brules camped in the bottom around Red Cloud's house, half a mile from the agency buildings. There are about seven hundred and fifty lodges, with about thirty-five hundred Indians. The Indian camp, two miles from the agency, has been broken up. Gen. Brooke has been ordered to march with his command from below the mission to this point. Part of his command will camp on the west bank of the White Clay immediately north of the Indians, while another will flank them on the west and south.

THE ROAD'S SURRENDER.

The advance guard of the hostiles had scarcely reached the fort when Big Road sent word that he had collected the arms of his followers and wanted to surrender them to the agency. When the weapons came on they were found to consist of two shotguns, a Henry rifle and a broken carbine, two Sharp's rifles and one Winchester, nine guns in all. This surrender is evidence that the Indians do not propose to give up all their guns, and that they have hidden their best weapons in the hills. On this basis the entire hostile band would be expected to give up in the neighborhood of 100 guns, when it is known that every buck is the owner of a gun.

American Horse, Standing Bear, White Bird and Spotted Horse, friendly chiefs, are now asking protection from the hostiles who have camped among them. The announcement has been made of the death at Fort Riley of Lieut. Mann of the Seventh Cavalry, wounded in the fight at the mission on December 30.

It is not believed that Gen. Miles will be satisfied with disarming on the basis of Big Road's surrender. This may seriously complicate the settlement.

CHANGED THEIR CAMP.

This afternoon the Brules abandoned their proposed camp near Red Cloud's house and pitched their tepees with the Ogallalas, forming a camp nearly a mile and a half in length, connecting with the friendlies south of the agency. The main part of the camp extends westwards from White Clay Creek up the bluff, on the summit of which the Indians have posted pickets to guard against a surprise.

Since the surrender by Big Road of the nine guns today, nothing has been heard or received from the hostile camp. Tonight the military pickets are watching the hostile camp as vigilantly as ever. Tomorrow it is expected that other chiefs will turn over to Agent Pierce the arms of their followers, but it is doubted whether the surrender will be any more complete than was that of Big Road's band.

WOUNDED KNEE REPEATED.

Big Road's band did in this matter just the same as did the warriors of Big Foot. The searching of the tepees of the latter was followed by the Wounded Knee massacre. Doubt is expressed that Gen. Miles will order a search. It is also quite certain that he will not seek for hidden weapons in the Bad Lands or near the camp sites which the hostiles have abandoned. Such being the case, the Indians will hardly miss the weapons they have surrendered, knowing that they may at any time regain possession of those they have stored away. The settlement of the matter without disturbing the Indians will be one of great interest, though many people hold that the Indian, even with arms, is not to be feared, if his rights under the contracts are observed.

This afternoon Gen. Brooke visited the agency and later returned to his camp, which is now but a short distance outside of the northern breastworks. All other detachments of the troops have been moved up and the military cordon still surrounds the hostiles.

THE DANCE GIVEN UP.

An Associated Press correspondent made an attempt to enter the hostile camp, but was prevented by some friendly Indians. The latter say that the hostiles, especially the young ones, are in very bad humor. They are suspicious of the intent of the military. At a late hour tonight no lights were visible among the tepees and it appeared as if the ghost dance, which was indulged in by some of the young men, had been discontinued.

THE WAR IS OVER.

Gen. Miles Reports That the Indians Are Entirely Conquered.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—[By the Associated Press.] Gen. Schofield received a telegram from Gen. Miles this morning, dated Pine Ridge, January 14, as follows:

In order to restore entire confidence among these Indians, I have found it necessary to send a delegation to Washington to receive assurance from the highest authority of the good intention of the Government toward them. This will answer, double purpose, namely, satisfy them, bridge over the transition period between war and peace, dispel distrust and hostility and restore confidence. It will also be a guarantee of peace while they are absent. I ask that my action may receive the approval of the department by telegram. Everything is progressing satisfactorily and I can see no reason why perfect peace may not be established.

By direction of Secretary Proctor, Gen. Schofield has sent the following reply:

The Secretary of War has conferred with the President and Secretary of Interior in regard to your proposal to send a delegation of Sioux chiefs to Washington, and they approve your recommendation. The Secretary of the Interior has sent an agent to conduct them. It is desired that the delegation be as small as possible, five or six and not more than ten. If the delegation has already started, telegraph at once the number, route and commanding officer. In reply to the latter telegram Gen. Miles wires:

There is no necessity for haste. I do not intend to send a delegation until this matter is entirely settled here and the Indians do as I have directed, which directions they are now complying with in every respect. This Indian war I now consider at an end in the most satisfactory manner. A more complete submission to the military power has never been made by any Indians. The report that any have escaped is simply untrue.

GEN. MILES INDORSED.

The Indian Rights Association Adopt His Plan.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 15.—[By the Associated Press.] The Executive Committee of the Indian Rights Association have adopted an appeal to the citizens of the United States on behalf of the Indians. The appeal says:

The first requisite is a single competent head for the management of Indian affairs, and chartered with that duty only, who shall report directly to the President and be looked to by the country at large for the successful management of the Indian service. It should be wholly free from the interference of partisan politics, and continue its policy and carry out its educational work undisturbed by changing administrations. While we do not advocate the complete transfer of Indian management to the War Department, we believe that all the advantages which the advocates of that plan desire could be obtained by making able and experienced army officers to serve as Indian agents, and without the counterbalancing disadvantages which we believe would result from so radical a change.

A SUGAR-TAX STEAL.

THE REVENUE DECEASED BY AN UNKNOWN FORGER.

A Discrepancy of $25,000 Discovered by the Collector at Philadelphia—Spreckels Puts Up a Check as Security.

By Telegram to The Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 15.—[By the Associated Press.] Special Agent Chance of the Customs service made an important discovery a few days ago, which gave evidence of the existence of a gigantic conspiracy to defraud the Government out of its legitimate revenue. By the merest accident he was made aware that there was a lowering of the sugar entries made by W. Ford Thomas, representing the Claus Spreckels sugar refinery. Collector Cooper at once made an investigation, showing that fraudulent alterations had been made in sugar entries, and a casual examination led to the opinion that the amount of money of which the Government had been cheated was almost $25,000.

Collector Cooper, with a view of protecting the Government, made an immediate call upon the C. A. Spreckels firm for the sum of $20,000, believing that that would cover the extent of the fraud. Spreckels handed to the collector a certified check for the amount, and this, it is believed, will fully protect the Government. The District Attorney will at once institute an investigation with a view of prosecuting the offender.

The method pursued shows that one or more persons in the Appraiser's office acted with some one on the outside, supposed to represent the Spreckels' refinery. The way the scheme was worked was to so change the figures on invoices which showed the polariscope test of sugar as to reduce the amount of duty to be paid.

Spreckels and his broker, W. Ford Thomas, deny all knowledge of the fraud. As soon as informed of the matter by the collector, Spreckels at once offered his check. In an interview this afternoon he said that he would like to know the motive for all this, which, to his mind, is nothing more than conspiracy. "It may be," said Spreckels, "a design to damage Mr. Thomas who has been in our employ for eight years. He has been a faithful and honest man and, in our experience, we have never seen anything to cause us to question his integrity. It may be a conspiracy on some one's part to drive him out of the business." Spreckels added that he could not think that Thomas had done anything wrong, and if it is not a conspiracy to injure him, it is an effort to injure the firm. They desire the fullest information.

PHILANTHROPY!

Having made all the money we want we propose, during 1891, to extend an opportunity to our friends to participate with us in the benefits. With this laudable idea in view we have reduced the price of our unequalled

ORANGE AND GRAPE LAND

FROM $200 PER ACRE TO $80 AND $100 PER ACRE,

And to people who will improve the land and plant fruit trees and vines the first year we make a discount of 20 per cent. All we ask you to pay now is

$10 PER ACRE,

Giving you two, three and four years in which to pay the balance. Liberal discount to cash customers.

LOCATION—San Bernardino County, five miles north of Riverside, five miles west of the city of San Bernardino.

SOIL—Rich, sandy loam.

ALTITUDE—100 feet; almost frostless.

We have 2,000 acres left of this fine orange land and want every acre planted in fruit trees and vines before the last day of next June, and propose to make this the

PRIZE COLONY.

THINK OF IT! The very best orange land in the heart of the orange belt, for Sixty-four to Eighty dollars per acre, and on such terms! Go to Riverside, five miles south of us, or to Redlands, ten miles east of us, and you will find that you must pay $200 to $300 per acre, for land much inferior to ours.

STATE POLITICS.

Was Bribe Money Used to Free Convicts?

AN INVESTIGATION DEMANDED.

The Farmers to the Front—Senator Hearst's Condition—Markham and the Hydraulic Miners—Cougher's Remarks.

[San Francisco Star.] The Star wishes to add that it firmly believes that bribe money was used, somehow, somewhere, to secure Northey's pardon. Moreover, that it was used to secure the pardon of a number of other criminals during the late weeks of Waterman's administration. There are men in prison now who have been there for years, whose greatest crime was that they were poor and friendless. They are compelled to toil day after day without hope! Creighton and Northey, however, were given easy "bills"—one being made a chaplain, the other a clerk, with all the appurtenances thereto belonging or in any wise appertaining. This may be lawful, but it is not just!

Among others of Waterman's pardons was that of a notorious harlot and procuress named Nellie Woods, who was a fugitive from justice and had never seen the inside of prison, although regularly convicted. Why was she pardoned? Because, perhaps, she was the favored mistress of some of the Governor's millionaire friends! There is a woman in prison now, for whose pardon an appeal was made, and made in vain! She is, we understand, an honest woman. She is a mother, with a mother's heart, and because she did what almost any mother would do, she is a branded and convicted felon. This woman's son was charged with crime. He was doubtless guilty. To save him from disgrace she sought to procure witnesses to swear false. She was charged with the crime of subornation of perjury, and was mercifully, pitilessly, sentenced for a long term of years to that living grave from which she sought to save her boy. Criminal though he did, he was still her boy, and she loved him, though all the world might condemn him. But she committed a crime. True; but that very crime "leaned to virtue's side," and what fond mother would have done less? Yet Waterman's ear was deaf, and his heart was cold, to her appeal for mercy! Who will say that he was actuated by principles of justice in pardoning the jury-bribers and harlots, while denying this poor, friendless woman's petition? Not entirely friendless now, for the Star takes up her cause, and appeals to Gov. Markham to make one of his first duties an investigation of her case, and, if he finds the facts to be as we state, to order her release. In the name of justice and humanity, we make this plea!

The Farmers Are There.

(Sacramento Bee.)

The farmers appear to be "in it" this time, if the amount of solicitude for their temporal welfare evinced in the Senate yesterday is to be considered. Wilson of Tehama, who is at the same time a profound anti-monopolist and one of the largest land-holders in the State, appeared as the agricultural champion. His first proposition was to endorse Senator Stanford's Land Loan Bill, empowering the Government to loan to farmers 50 per cent. of the assessed valuation of their land at 2 per cent. a year. This was all well enough, but Wilson would not stop there in his yearning desire to help the down-trodden agriculturist. In another resolution he proposed to have the Government establish public warehouses in every county where 100 farm owners shall so request. In these warehouses it shall be the privilege of farmers to store their products and then draw loans from the Government at the rate of 2 per cent., as in the case of land. The preamble recites that the present plan of the farmers' crops are projected on the market at the same time, thus placing them at the mercy of speculators, ought to be abolished by the Government warehouse system.

Wilson made an effort to get immediate hearing for the latter plan, but the Senate declined to ask the General Government to do anything of the kind, unless by the regular committee route, so the resolutions went into the hands of the Committee on Federal Relations.

Campbell, the dry and dumpy Senator from Solano, presented a resolution advocating at the Federal Government to loan to farmers every day as to Senator Hearst's condition, but the answer returned in each case is: "The Senator passed a comfortable night and is improving slowly," or "He passed a restless night and is not quite so well today." Further than this it is impossible to learn anything about his condition. It is asserted by some that he has cancer of the stomach, and will never be able to resume his seat in the Senate, but these reports usually emanate from those not in a position to know as well as some others. W. H. Hearst continues by his father's bedside. This is regarded by some as a sure indication of the Senator's dangerous condition.

Senator Hearst's Condition.

(Washington dispatch, Jan. 15.)

Senator Hearst's private secretary is authority for the statement that the Associated Press report of Senator Hearst and Private Secretary Wedderburn say that Senator Hearst is not in a dangerous condition, and is improving slowly but surely. The doctors decline to talk to the subject. This is regarded by some as indicating that Senator Hearst is in a dangerous condition. The family and those closely connected say that Senator Hearst is improving, and the doctors refuse to talk, so his real condition must remain unknown until there is some radical change for the better or worse. Senator Hearst's most intimate friends are also in the dark as to the Senator's real condition. Congressmen Clunie thinks the Senator is improving gradually, and that the reports of his condition by the Associated Press are grossly exaggerated. Senator Stanford causes his private secretary to inquire every day as to Senator Hearst's condition, but the answer returned in each case is: "The Senator passed a comfortable night and is improving slowly," or "He passed a restless night and is not quite so well today." Further than this it is impossible to learn anything about his condition. It is asserted by some that he has cancer of the stomach, and will never be able to resume his seat in the Senate, but these reports usually emanate from those not in a position to know as well as some others. W. H. Hearst continues by his father's bedside. This is regarded by some as a sure indication of the Senator's dangerous condition.

The Senators' Ship.

State Senator Cougher in nominating Stephen M. White for United States Senator said: I urge attention to one who is inseparable from the preservation of the fair fame of the State and promotion of patriotic motives among her people. No man desires to win a Senatorship in whose behalf any mysterious and well-laden hand has been exerted to affect legislative result. In defense of the honor of State liberty, her people and the virtue of her voters we must keep the Senatorship as far above such endeavors as the shining stars of Orion in the heavens are above the dome of this Capitol.

BUSINESS.

Money, Stocks and Bonds.

By Telegraph to The Times.

New York, Jan. 15.—Money—On call, easy; closing offered at 3 per cent.

PRIME MERCANTILE PAPER—6 1/2%.

STERLING EXCHANGE—Active, strong; 60-day bills, 4.84 1/2; demand, 4.87 1/2.

New York, Jan. 15.—The passage of the unlimited silver coinage bill by the Senate furnished the mainspring of operations in the stock market today, and altogether its influence was adverse to values. Its most marked effect was seen in the material decline in the price of silver certificates, which, if anything, it was expected would be benefited by such a measure.

Another effect of the passage of the bill was a stiffening in the rates of exchange, caused by large purchases by people who feared the outcome of such legislation.

Considerable feverishness and irregularity was displayed in the regular list during the day, and the last hour there was a large amount of short stock put on the market, with the effect of accelerating the decline, and the lowest prices of the day were reached at the close. The losses to night include Rock Island and Sugar, each 3/4, St. Paul 1/4, Union Pacific 1/4.

Government bonds were dull.

FOUND GUILTY.

Mr. and Mrs. Strang Guilty of Neglect.

DETAILS OF THE CASE.

The Defendants Their Own Attorneys—Justice Gardner Imposes Sentence—Other Current Locals.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. William G. Strang and Jane Dos Strang was tried yesterday before Justice Gardner. The case was called for 10 o'clock, but it was an hour later before the proceedings were instituted.

Ben Hahn, in the absence of a Deputy District Attorney, acted for the commonwealth. Mr. and Mrs. Strang conducted their own case. As before stated, the case was called under section 270 of the Penal Code, which reads: "Every parent of any child who wilfully omits, without lawful excuse, to perform any duty imposed upon him by law to furnish necessary food, shelter or medical attendance for such child is guilty of a misdemeanor."

On Wednesday of last week Johnnie, an 11-year-old son of the defendants, had his left arm broken just above the elbow while playing at school. Monday last The Times made public the fact that the boy had since been without medical attendance, and the case yesterday was the result of the article.

The defendants did not demand a jury trial. Dr. Dalrymple was first called upon to testify. After he had been sworn Mrs. Strang requested that Dr. Conger be examined first. The justice assented and before long the witness made his appearance. Dr. Conger testified in substance that he went to the Strang home on Monday and by authority of Humane Officer Wright and Constable Butterworth, with the permission of the parents, examined Johnnie's injured arm. He found it fractured just above the elbow and recommended that he consider the proper mode of treatment. Dr. Dalrymple then took the stand. He had examined the arm shortly after Dr. Conger, and reported it in substantially the same condition. Both physicians agreed that the arm was much more swollen than it would have been had it been properly treated. The cross-examination on the part of the defendants was long drawn out, and elicited nothing new of importance.

Humane Officer Wright of Los Angeles told how he had read of the case in The Times Monday morning, and had come to Pasadena that afternoon in response to a telephone from Officer Butterworth, and had the physicians examine the arm. The cross-examination had largely to do with the matter of whether or not Mr. Wright had spoken on the subject of sanctification while in the Strang household.

The defendants called first upon Elizabeth B. Stratton to testify. The witness was present when the doctors examined the arm, and testified that in her opinion Dr. Dalrymple had handled the arm too roughly, and intimating that whatever the Lord had done in the way of healing the bone prior to that time had been then and there undone. William C. Stevens, the gentleman who has been teaching recently the doctrine of divine healing at the Holiness Church, took the stand and related how Johnnie had been brought to the church and there prayed for. The witness expressed his entire belief in the power of the Lord to make the arm well, although he had not seen and knew little about the exact nature of the injury.

Johnnie himself next testified. It seemed paradoxical, to say the least, to see him as he sat there, pale, his left shoulder drawn down and the hand of his broken arm held in that of his well one, to hear him testify that prior to the doctor's examination he had suffered not a moment of pain. The first night after the accident he admitted that his arm felt "tired," but further than this he would not commit himself. Since the examination he said the arm had hurt him more. He thought the Lord would and could heal him. The remaining witnesses were the defendants. No new points were brought out by their testimony. Both witnesses took occasion to scathe the reporter for the numerous alleged untruths he had published bearing on the case. Mr. Strang accused Dr. Dalrymple of malpractice, intimating that he had pushed the bones out of proper position. In rebuttal Humane Officer Wright testified that the examination had been carefully conducted and that undue roughness had not been used.

It was now after 2 o'clock. Mr. Strang generously refrained from argument. Mr. Hahn did likewise, and the case went to the justice. A decision was soon rendered, finding both the defendants guilty of a misdemeanor. At the request of the defendants, sentence was imposed in a short time. Mrs. Strang was set free, but admonished to hereafter adopt a different course of medical treatment when her children were suffering. Mr. Strang was given twenty-four hours to put Johnnie in the hands of a regular practicing physician for treatment. If, at the expiration of such time he has not done so, he will be compelled to pay a fine of $25 or go to the County Jail for twenty-five days. Humane Officer Wright expressly stated that unless the boy is in a doctor's hands by tomorrow afternoon, that he will take him at once to the county hospital.

The case has aroused much indignation in this community, and the verdict met with almost unanimous approval, the only person standing out against it being such good people in our midst who are unwisely sincere in the delusion that God can and will heal all our infirmities without any assistance on our part. As a prominent churchman expressed it: "The Bible says 'The Lord will provide,' yet no rational person conceives this to mean that we are to fold our hands and do nothing and let the Lord attend to the matter of clothing and raising."

The next steps of the case will be watched with interest.

REVIVAL MEETINGS.

Much Religious Interest at the Christian Church.

Coombs of Indiana at the Christian Church for the week beginning Thursday, January 15, are as follows: "Religious Delusions and Fanaticisms," among which are Mohammedanism, deism, indulgences, witchcraft, Mormonism, spiritualism, faith cure, morventism, Christian science, divine healing and miraculous conversion; Friday night, "Law;" Saturday night, "True Greatness;" Sunday, morning service, 11 a. m., "Watchfulness;" 3 p. m. Subjects for Bible readings: Thursday, 2 p. m., "Lord's Day;" Friday, "Lord's Baptism;" Tuesday, "Lord's Supper."

Joint Installation. The crowd gathered in I. O. O. F. Hall Wednesday evening was only limited by the size of the room. The occasion was the installation of the officers elect of John F. Godfrey Post, G. A. R.; Phil Kearney Camp, S. of V., and the Woman's Relief Corps. The veterans were installed by Department Commander A. J. Buckles, their sons by Division Col. Fred G. Wood and the ladies by Mrs. Abbie E. Johnson, senior vice-president of the department, assisted by Mrs. H. B. Sherman, national delegate.

The exercises proper were enlivened by music by the Harmonia (quartette), Miss Grace Wilde acting as accompanist; speeches and refreshments. The whole affair passed off most pleasantly.

Music by the Band. The brass band formed in North Pasadena a short time ago is now under the direction of Prof. Dodsworth, founder of the noted "Dodsworth Band" of New York City, who has kindly offered to direct and instruct the boys, and make a good band out of them. The members are as follows: W. D. Abaugh, cornet; Mr. Winters, cornet; Hiram Staats, cornet; W. C. Schindler, cornet; Stanley Bent, cornet; T. E. Banbury, alto cornet; T. Bruner, alto cornet; Sam Banbury, tenor cornet; W. Humphrey, tenor cornet; Nate Hodge, trombone; A. W. Winters, baritone; Will Glass, piccolo; E. Buckles, clarinet; D. D. Lambert, bass; Will Linney, tenor drum; A. D. Wood, bass drum.

Coroner's Inquest. Coroner Weldon held an inquest yesterday morning to inquire into the cause of Col. Place's sudden death Wednesday night. The following gentlemen were summoned as jurors: J. Stiles, J. S. Baldwin, J. E. Doty, M. J. Green, T. C. Foster, E. T. Howe and W. U. Mariner. Mrs. Place and Dr. J. M. Radabaugh testified as to the nature of the deceased's illness. A decision was rendered to the effect that he had died a natural death from heart disease.

SANTA MONICA.

An Interesting Street Case—Legal Points Raised.

SANTA MONICA, Jan. 15.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] The preliminary examination was held Tuesday in the case of the people vs. K. D. Newton, who was arrested some time ago on a warrant for maliciously tearing up the highway. The defendant, the prosecution claimed, plowed up Fifteenth street with a malicious intent. He admitted the act of plowing; that he was told by Trustee Lewis that he could do so, but afterward said, as Jones and Baker had refused to allow the board to run a drain over the bluff, they would refuse to allow him to plow up any of the streets in town; that they would be technical, as Jones and Baker had been technical with them. J. A. Pritchard, the agent here for Senator Jones, told him to go ahead. The defense put in a large mass of evidence showing that the street in question had never been dedicated, used, and consequently it is the property of Messrs. Jones and Baker, and they had a perfect right to do with the same as they pleased, which the prosecution denied.

Justice Twitchell held the prisoner to appear before the higher tribunal in $500 bail, which was immediately furnished and he was released. The case, when it is tried in Los Angeles, will undoubtedly raise many interesting issues about the validity of the charter and the dedication of the streets. The street in question is out in the open plains, never having been used for any other purpose than grazing, etc.

Mrs. J. J. Evans, who formerly lived here and whose husband is buried here, died at the residence of her grandson, Charles Cole, on North Workman street, East Los Angeles, on the 11th inst., and was laid to rest in Rosedale Cemetery Tuesday.

The backbone of the cold wave has broken as far as Santa Monica is concerned, and we are enjoying our usual balmy weather, fine bathing, etc.

It is expected that Hotel Arandia will open during the month.

DO OUR CHILDREN PAY?

How a Father Figured Out the Answer to That Question.

[J. H. D. in Detroit Free Press.]

Does a 2-year-old baby pay for itself up to the time it reaches that interesting age? Sometimes I think not. I thought so yesterday when my own baby slipped into my own study and "scrubbed" the carpet and his best white dress with my bottle of ink. He was playing in the coal hod ten minutes after a clean dress was put on him, and later in the day he pasted 50 cents worth of postage stamps on the parlor wall and poured a dollar's worth of the choicest "White Rose" perfume out of the window "to see it wain."

Then he dug out the center of a nicely-baked loaf of cake, and was found in the middle of the dining-room-table with the sugar-bowl between his legs and most of the contents in his stomach.

He has already cost over $100 in doctor's bills, and I feel that I am right in attributing my few gray hairs to the misery I endured walking the floor with him at night during the first year of his life.

What has he ever done to pay me for that?

Ab! I hear his little feet pattering along out in the hall, I hear his little rattle of laughter because he has escaped from his mother and found his way up to my study at a forbidden hour. But the door is closed. The worthless little vagabond can't get in, and I won't open it for him. No, I won't. I can't be disturbed when I am writing. He can just cry if he wants to. I won't be bothered for—"rat, tat, tat," go his dimpled knuckles on the door. I sit in silence.

"I rat, tat, tat."

"I rat, tat, tat."

"Papa, papa."

"No reply."

"Peeze, papa."

"Grim silence."

"Baby turn in—peeze, papa."

"He shall not come in."

"My papa."

"Papa," says the little voice; "I lub my papa. Peeze let baby in!"

I am not quite a brute, and I throw open the door. In he comes with outstretched little arms, with shining eyes, with laughing face. I catch him up into my arms, and his warm, soft little arms go around my neck, the not very clean little cheek is laid close to mine, the baby voice says sweetly:

"I lub my papa."

Does he pay?

Well, I guess he does! He has cost me many anxious days and nights. He has cost me time and money and little arms go around my neck. He has cost me pain and sorrow. He has cost me. But he has paid for it all again and again in whispering those three little words into my ears: "I lub papa."

Our children pay when their very first feeble little cries fill our hearts with the mother love and the father love that ought never to fail among all earthly passions.

Do our children pay?

THE RAILROADS.

Ticket Agents' Meeting in San Francisco.

DEMAND FOR LOWER RATES.

What Could Be Done to Induce Immigration to Southern California—Dissatisfied Grain Dealers—Notes.

The railroad ticket agents who belong to the Transcontinental Association met in San Francisco yesterday and will be in session until Saturday evening. There is no reason why they should not take steps to have an excursion rate of some kind adopted by the companies for sixty or ninety days from the East, and there is no doubt that they would do something of this kind if all the boards of trade and chambers of commerce in Southern California could be induced to make a request.

The rates from the East are so high now that only wealthy people think of coming out. On the other hand, a reduction of 50 per cent. or more for round-trip tickets would bring thousands of people out, and both the country and the railroad companies would be benefited. As this is California's fortieth anniversary, it would be the correct thing for the railroad people to make a round-trip rate at $40 from the Missouri River. At present their through coaches are less than one-third filled, and it costs just as much to haul empty cars as full ones, there is no reason why they should not make out rates for a couple of three months to get people in the way of traveling once more.

It is a well-known fact among railroad men that at least 90 per cent. of the money taken in by railroads comes from the freight department; hence there is but little money in the passenger business at best, and the only way to make it pay at all is to carry a great number of people, and the only way to do that is to put the rates down to the smallest possible figure, and that is something the roads have always fought against. Their greed for money has caused them to lose sight of the fact that the passenger passenger they bring out here means a certain number of pounds of freight yearly as long as that passenger lives on the coast, and for this reason it is to the advantage of the roads to bring people out here for nothing if they cannot get them here in any other way, for the larger the population the greater will their receipts be from the freight business.

Since the rate war of four years ago the freight business has more than doubled. Up to that time both the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe were doing a good business from Southern California to keep a train a day going, and now they are running out from six to ten each. It is easy enough to get people out here, and if they will reduce rates the population of Southern California can be more than doubled in six years.

F. McDonald and C. H. Saunders were tried before Justice Owen yesterday on a charge of petty larceny, when the former was acquitted. The men were accused of having stolen a lot of lead pipe from a plumber's shop on Second street. McDonald's defense was that he thought the pipe belonged to Saunders. Detective Bosquet made the arrest.

The attention of the Board of Trade is called to the condition of the front of their building. The sign is defaced, and a portion of the letters remaining, and the appearance is anything but inviting to visitors and tourists.

The Knights of Pythias will give a grand entertainment at San Pedro tonight. A number of Los Angeles people will go down to participate in the festivities. All the rooms in the Clarence Hotel have been engaged for the occasion.

FIVE-CENT DEPOSIT STAMPS.

We have adopted the system of 5-CENT DEPOSIT STAMPS, which has been successfully carried on in many of the cities of Europe for over 20 years and lately adopted by many of the Savings Banks of the United States.

This bank has distributed to its agents a sufficient quantity of red 5-CENT DEPOSIT STAMPS, a little larger than the ordinary 5-cent postage stamp, and each purchaser of one 5-cent deposit stamp is furnished with a stamp deposit book free, beautifully colored, with ten pages, each page ruled for twenty stamps, and when filled represents $1, which is torn out by the depositor and sent to the bank to be credited to the credit of the depositor, who may then draw out the money at any time.

Any number of leaves can be drawn out at the same time, or the depositor can wait until he or she has filled the book and bring or send it to the bank and receive an ordinary Deposit Book with one of the last hundred stamps, and have it more fully explained.
